

ASCUS

Atypical Squamous Cells of Unknown Significance. This result means that cells were found that were not normal, but also not identifiable. This can be caused by dysplasia, but it can also be caused by inflammation or other factors.

Contact Us
UCSF Main Site

© 2014 The Regents of the University of California

Source URL: <https://analcancerinfo.ucsf.edu/ascus>